BACKGROUND:

In the fall of 2007, the City requested leadership from Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi and Del Mar College for a regional community visioning effort. The two institutions agreed to provide leadership and in January of 2008, Phase I of the BoldFuture initiative was launched with city funding. During the next three phases of the project, additional institutional, corporate and private funding supported the initiative, which involved thousands of citizens and the dedication of close to 60 Lead Partners and many more Supporting Partners. Almost five years after initiation of the project, the BoldFuture Leadership Team is pleased to report that progress has been made on almost 90 percent of the 270 action items included in the Vision Action Plan released in April 2010.
