Why are you interested in serving on a City board, commission or committee?

I am interested in serving on this board as this is the most unique board that fits my educational and professional background. I've been in the oil & gas business in Corpus Christi since 1987 and know all aspects of the business. I'm currently involved with two companies - as the CEO of Texegy LLC and as President of SV Energy Company LLC. I fully understand the Energy business from technical as well as from management point of views. My unique engineering and oil & gas background should be great assets to this prestigious board. “Traits of Effective Leaders: A Literature Review” October 2020.

DOI: 10.5281/zenodo.4268623

ABSTRACT: Utilizing research to identify an effective leader is essential for creating a strategic business operational leadership model. The purpose of this literature review is to focus on select objective and less objective traits of leadership among individuals who are in those positions. We explore literature on objective leadership traits such as gender, age, education level, and job satisfaction level and on the less objective traits such as integrity, energy level, and business knowledge, among others. The goal is to evaluate the hypothesis that some, if not all, of these traits contribute significantly to effective leadership by analyzing the available literature about traits of an effective leader. We will explore the theories that have been proposed on this subject in the literature, identify to what degree researchers have investigated these theories, and try to confirm which of these traits continue to significantly be related to successful leadership. The purpose of this paper is to generate a thorough literature review which can later provide a reliable platform for further qualitative, quantitative, or mixed-methods research to create standards that business practices can utilize as a model for leadership identification and integration.

Jon Reily - Senior Vice President, Global Head of Commerce Strategy

Jon Reily is a 25-year eCommerce and global business veteran who founded and sold two successful companies in the first dotcom boom of the 1990s and is well-known as a strategic futurist in next-generation commerce and a frequently sought-after voice in terms of "what's next" in commerce. As a frequent newspaper, TV and radio commentator, he has appeared on CNBC, BBC Radio 4, Yahoo Finance, CheddarTV, and been quoted in the Financial Times, The Evening Standard, The Independent, Absatzwirtschaft, Adweek, Forbes, the Washington Post, Business Insider, and the Associated Press as well as many other global publications.

He advises and guides companies from start-ups to global Fortune 500 powerhouses innovate their digital futures. Before joining Isobar, Jon held leadership roles at Amazon.com and Prudential Financial, and most recently was a senior leader at Publicis Sapient where he worked with Fortune 500 companies and top global retailers to advise and counsel how best to transform themselves digitally to stay competitive in the increasingly technology focused world.

In his time at Amazon.com he re-invented how Amazon sells and marketed their 1st-party manufactured devices, such as Kindle Fire and FireTV, and helped create a multi-billion-dollar business division within Amazon. He is a strong advocate of the importance of the customer experience in any digital strategy and that companies who get that right will thrive, and those who do not will not.

“We are in a period of change we have not seen as a society since the industrial revolution. Fundamental changes of how we interact with commerce, the brands we use, and how we acquire those products, are occurring every day and no one can predict where the end-state will be. We tend to think that we are at the top of the bell-curve in terms of digital disruption, that we’ve been through a lot, and we’re almost to the zenith. The truth is that we are just getting started, the biggest changes are yet to come, and they will be amazing. The best is yet to come.”

With these views, Reily has been a driving force in the global eCommerce space for nearly a decade. A holder of several patents which underpin the basics of how eCommerce works, he is uniquely positioned to not only assist with the “now” of where companies are in this new world, but also where the “next” is and how best to get there. A successful futurist and forecaster of future trends, Reily is a major factor in the company’s toolkit it can offer its customers to help them on their digital journeys.

Education, Professional and/or Community Activity (Present)

Texas A&M University Bachelor in Marine Transportation 1998 Retired State Commissioned Harbor Pilot for the Port of Corpus Christi. Served for 13 years from 2005 to 2018 Licensed Master Unlimited U.S. Coast Guard U.S. Navy Lieutenant Commander, Honorably Discharged in 2010 U.S. Coast Guard Meritorious Public Service Award 2018

Why are you interested in serving on a City board, commission or committee?

I served as a State Commissioned Pilot for the Port of Corpus Christi for over 13 years. Throughout my career as a professional mariner I acquired extensive knowledge of how ports operate nationwide. Later as Port Pilot on the Corpus Christi waterway, I amassed vast vessel operational experience, that can aid in the decision making necessary to assist the growth and sustainability of the Port and surrounding waters under the jurisdiction of the Port Commission. As the former President of the Aransas-Corpus Christi Pilots, the group of expert mariners that guide the vessels in and out of the Port, I have had the opportunity to work closely with the Port Staff, Port Commission, and Pilot Board. During my past time as a Pilot and now as a consultant, I have been involved in the design and feasibility studies for all the new marine facilities that have been developed in the Port of Corpus Christi and its channel improvement projects. I look forward to the opportunity to serve our community and further improve the economic engine of the area.

Marina

Why are you interested in serving on a City board, commission or committee?

I believe in serving the community and have skills that will add value to decisions made. When I moved to Corpus Christi as a young Engineer I personally conducted the underwater survey of damage to our Seawall and L-Head/T-Head structures with Goldston Engineering. The resultant reports and design proposal was adopted by the city and is in place today. Furthermore I was instrumental in collecting and presenting data to Congress that brought the Homeport to Corpus Christi. I worked on the GCCA Redfish hatchery and King Ranch Shrimp Farm in the 1980. I went on to work in the International Oil and Gas Industry as an engineer and progressed to VP of a Major Supplier of Equipment and Services Worldwide. I had 200 employees and offices in Corpus Christi, Houston, Chicago, Norway, Dubai and Singapore. After retiring I started an independent engineering company focused on Texas Windstorm Certifications and Marine Industrial Infrastructure.
