CHILDREN IN THE LIBRARY
The library does not provide the degree of supervision that children need. Children under the age of 15 should be accompanied by an adult or older sibling while visiting the library.

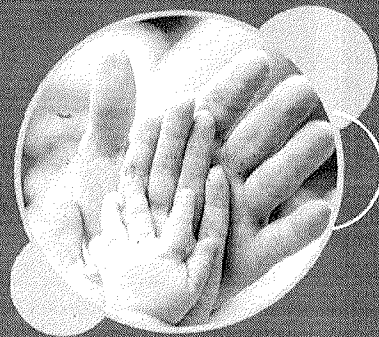

OUR COLLECTION
We support and respect parental rights to make decisions about what is or is not appropriate for their children. Parents should be aware that children have access to all materials in the library.
Our Juvenile section (ages 0-12) and our Young Adult section (ages 15-17) have material that may not be appropriate for all ages or all readers within the designated sections.
Help your children become information literate by showing them how
