Dear Mayor, Councilmembers, and Staff,

Once again, I would like to point out that my public comments are not meant to pick on anyone. As I have stated publicly, I have nothing against anyone on the Council. I don't have anything against anyone on the Staff or any residents either. I picked Councilmember Pusley's report solely because it was the only one that displayed the amount of information I wanted to go over but not too much information that I would not be able to cover it in the limited amount of time I am allotted. Only three people listed owning any publicly traded stock. One was too simple and didn't even list any sources of income. The other was very detailed and too long to fit my time. The Councilmember's report covered enough information but not too much. I will continue using information that best fits examples I am trying to make. Please don't take it personally. I am just presenting facts.

When I was reading text messages I have received from different sources, I did not read the most embarrassing ones or the most damning ones. I am still hopeful that at some point the Council will start policing itself and/or wrong doers will take the more honorable path and start resigning, following Sean Strawbridge's example.

For over the last year and a half I have been commenting mostly on issues of relating to ethics, transparency, and fairness. I bring to light facts that it seems the Council, Staff, or Residents are unaware of. Some have said, "sunshine is the best disinfectant." I have contacted all Council and most of the Staff management and provided my contact information. I was able to start a dialogue with the legal department and now they are totally unresponsive. I have stated publicly I do not intend to sue the City. With proper dialogue, much of my public comment could have been avoided.

The Council has the responsibility and the authority to make sure decorum is kept in all meeting as well as enforcing the Code of Ethics. If the Code of Ethics isn't enforced, the Residents lose trust. We are at that point now. If it feels like something sneaky is being done, it is most likely a violation of the Code of Ethics or Texas state law. The Trust in the Council is at an all-time low. If it appears that the Code of Ethics or Texas state law has been broken, at a minimum the Council should refer it to the Ethics Commission for their review, just to cover your own backsides.'

An example would be Councilman Pusley voting on the Port appointments. Y'all know about his seeming conflict of interest in Port issues. Now, go back and rewatch the Council meeting when the Port appointments were voted on. Who dominated and had their way into not even looking at qualified and good applicants for the positions? According to the Code of Ethics, this Councilman should have "Immediately refrained from further participation in the matter, including discussions with any person likely to consider the matter." He and Mr. Engel had this all set up beforehand. I have his text messages from December and January leading up to that vote that show his actions to get support for the Commissioner. The same Commissioner, that would work with him on the secret MOU. I haven't made those public yet.

I guess as long as there is no dialogue, no transparency and no enforcement of the Code of Ethics or other Texas State laws that appear to have been broken, I will continue to provide facts to the Council, Staff, and Residents. I would much rather stay at home and read a book. Trust me, I don't like giving public comment.

Regards, John Weber
