Restaurants shouldn't be able to serve a glass of water unless customers request it. If they do then it should be a small glass. Most people don't even take a sip. It's just thrown away. We need to preserve what water we have.

Three reasons why the City of Corpus Christi should approach the Harbor Island option contract with extreme caution

Hi Councilmembers, today I am going to give three reasons why the City should approach the Harbor Island option contract with extreme caution.

1. Impact to Ratepayers. The first reason is that it is expensive. The NRA refused to cap the price of water at $15 per thousand gallons, which means it could cost more. But even at that rate, the annual expense for water would be huge, over $250 million a year, that's two and a half times the annual cost for the Inner Harbor. So, what is the impact on our water bills? I think that's something we should know before spending ratepayer dollars.

2. No Environmental Review. Reason number two is pretty easy, it's because the environmental review has not been completed yet. Harbor Island's outfall is located near a major fish pass and it could be harmful to wildlife. Without the review, we shouldn't be spending ratepayer dollars.

3. Too Much Water. Okay and the third reason is because, in my opinion, this is too much water. Over the past 20 years, water use in the Coastal Bend has remained mostly flat. Which is incredible because our population has grown by 40,000 people in Nueces county alone. However, over the next 20 years, the population is only projected to grow by about 21,000 people for Nueces county and San Patricio county combined. And that's according to State demographers with the Texas Water Development Board.

Now, why that is important is because we can use it to determine how much more water we'll need over the next twenty years. And you can do that by using something called GPCD or gallons per capita per day. It's basically how much water we use in the City for commercial businesses, churches, and at home, but per resident. So for example, the GPCD for Corpus in 2023 was 109 gallons per person per day for all municipal use except for industry.

So when you put that together, the increased water demands from residential growth is only 2 MGD by 2030 and 3.5 MGD by 2040, which is much less than 50 million gallons per day. So it begs the question, who is this water for? Is it for industry in San Pat? Because if it is, then they should be signing the contract, not us.

I believe the plans we have in place right now are more than enough to meet our water needs for the next 20 years. And if it isn't, I would like to see a detailed explanation of what the anticipated needs are before signing on to a major project like this.

Respectfully,
Jason Hale
Concerned Corpus Christi resident

4. For this reporting period, estimate the savings from water conservation activities and programs.

Gallons Saved/Conserved	Gallons Recycled/Reused	Total Volume of Water Saved ¹	Dollar Value of Water Saved ²
135,000	125,000	260,000	780

¹Estimated Gallons Saved + Estimated Gallons Recycled/Reused = Total Volume Saved

²Estimated this value by taking into account water savings, the cost of treatment or purchase of water, and deferred capital cost due to conservation.

5. Comments or Explanations Regarding Data Entered in Sections Above.
 Files to support or explain this may be attached below.

The City of Corpus added additional staff to the water sources team, which manages the water conservation program. With the added staff, we have been able to do more public outreach and educate about water conservation. We increased the amount of rain barrels sold, as well as given away more educational material to kids and young adults. One of the popular item was a 5 minute shower timer. which approximately 400 were given out. Public feedback has been positive, and the idea of implementing a 5 minute shower, specially for kids, was favorable. The City also implemented a new water reuse program that anyone with a registered water truck may purchase reuse water from one of our wastewater treatment plant for construction purposes. We also issued watering restrictions due to drought and limited the outside watering to once a week since June 2022 and most recently to over other week since March 2024. All of these initiatives have resulted in water conservation.

Leak Detection and Water Loss

1. During this reporting period, how many leaks were repaired in the system or at service connections? 881

2. Select the main cause(s) of water loss in your system.

	Water Loss Causes
☒	Distribution line leaks and breaks
☒	Unauthorized use and theft

☒	Master meter problems
☐	Customer meter problems
☐	Record and data problems
☐	Other

3. For this reporting period, provide the following information on your distribution lines.

Total Length of Main Lines (miles)	Total Length Repaired (feet)	Total Length Replaced (feet)
1828	1000	4835

4. For this reporting period, provide the following information regarding your meters:

Type of Meter	Total Number	Total Tested	Total Repaired	Total Replaced
Production Meters	10	10	0	0
Meters larger than 1 1/2 inches	2108	200	0	69
Meters 1 1/2 inches or smaller	98131	980	0	666

5. Does your system have automated meter reading? ☒ Yes ☐ No

Water Loss, Target and Goals

Total, Residential and Water Loss Gallons Per Capita per Day (GPCD) and Water Loss Percentage

The tables below display your current GPCD totals and water loss percentage for your service area.

Total System Input in Gallons Water Produced + Wholesale Imported - Wholesale Exported	Retail Population ¹	Total GPCD (System Input / Retail Population) / 365
26,938,743,072	314,204	235

¹Retail Population is the total permanent population of the service area, including single family, multi-family, and group quarter populations

Residential Use in Gallons (Single Family + Multi-family)	Residential Population ²	Residential GPCD (Residential Use / Residential Population) / 365
7,693,000,000	314,204	67

²Residential Population is the total residential population of the service area, including only single family and multi-family populations

Total Water Loss in Gallons Apparent + Real = Total Water Loss	Retail Population	Water Loss GPCD ³	Water Loss Percent
1,980,503,072	314,204	17	7.35%

³(Total Water Loss / Residential Population) / 365 = Water Loss GPCD
 (Total Water Loss / Total System Input) * 100 = Water Loss Percentage

The table below displays the specific and quantified five-year and ten-year goals listed in your current Water Conservation Plan alongside the current GPCD and water loss totals.
