CAREER HIGHLIGHTS

Executive Leadership

- Created a strategy to recruit, develop, retain and commission top quality college students as Second Lieutenants into the U.S. Army as the CEO and Professor of Military Science, Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC), Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi. Designed a marketing and branding plan to expose the organization to the local and regional community while developing students through outcome based training and education.
 - Commissioned 47 adaptive and critical thinking officers into the U.S. Army.
 - Negotiated and secured a 1300 acre ranch for training; over $2 million in scholarships for students; and the retention of over 100 students per school year.
 - Organization is now the Premier Senior ROTC Program in South Texas.

Management

- Provided direct oversight of program staffs consisting of military and federal civilian employees. Managed program's daily operations to include operations, logistics, budget, legal actions, training, safety, and facilities.
 - Processed over 56,000 Soldiers into the U.S. Army.
 - Maintained an operational budget of $780,000.
 - Flawlessly facilitated the realignment of multiple Army organizations and restructuring them to maximize unit effectiveness

Operations

- Planned, programmed, and implemented strategic human resources reforms for the Afghan National Army. Shaped the complex environment by working directly with the Afghan Deputy Minister of Defense to develop and implement Human Resources policies and regulations.
 - Developed the Afghan Personnel Systems Lifecycle Model that was adopted and implemented throughout the Ministry of Defense.
 - Facilitated the development and implementation of 13 human resources systems throughout the Afghan National Army.
 - Thrived in a multi-national, multi-service environment. Greatly improved U.S. and Afghan relations through cultural awareness, active listening, and diplomatic negotiations.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

U.S. Army Officer, Senior Human Resources Officer

1994-2014

Successful and distinguished military career progressing to the rank of Lieutenant Colonel with increasingly responsible positions requiring direct leadership, definite ethical conduct, project planning and execution, and fiscal responsibility.

Chief Executive Officer and Professor of Military Science, United States Army Cadet Command, Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi, Corpus Christi, TX, 2011 – 2014

- Provided vision, established a strategy, and managed resources to meet goals and objectives.
- Developed adaptive, critical leaders through Outcomes Based Training and Education.
- Fostered relationships between the U.S. Army, university officials, and community leaders.

Executive Officer, 43d Reception Battalion, Ft. Leonard Wood, MO, 2010-2011

- Managed the program's daily operation of processing soldiers into the U.S. Army and transporting them to their assigned training units resulting in processing over 24k soldiers a year.

- Designed effective processing mechanisms to maximize efficiency by leading a team of external federal agencies greatly reducing soldier attrition rate from 5% to 1.6%.

Senior Advisor to Deputy Minister of Defense for Personnel and Education, Combined Security Transition Command-Afghanistan, Operation Enduring Freedom, 2007-2008.

- Subject matter expert on all U.S. Army human resources policies and aided Afghan National Army human personnel recruit, process, and document over 125,000 Afghan soldiers.
- Selected as Senior Advisor to the Deputy Minister of Defense by achieving a 100% approval rate on human resource policies through diplomatic negotiations with various Afghan diplomats.

Senior Human Resources Operations Officer, 21st Theater Sustainment Command, Kaiserslautern, Germany, 2006-2007.

- Human resources planner of the largest logistics organization outside the United States covering the European continent and provided accountability oversight of thousands of soldiers deploying from Europe to Afghanistan and Iraq.
- Project manager on the implementation of a new Army human resources application throughout the organization; as well as the employment of human resource sustainment center in Europe.
- Directly involved in planning the restructure of the organization which led to the successful transformation of three large size units, the inactivation of two units, while simultaneously deploying and re-integrating units in support of the Global War on Terrorism.

DEBORAH K. RIOS

OBJECTIVE

To obtain a position in which I can utilize my present skills, develop new skills, and have an opportunity for advancement.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Solo Practitioner July 2012 - Present
RIOS LAW OFFICE June 2007 - November 2010
3230 Reid Dr., Suite J, Corpus Christi, Texas 78404 June 2003 - December 2005

The majority of my professional career has been as solo practitioner. Originally I opened my office practicing in the areas of family law, personal injury, wills & estates, and employment law. In 2007 I expanded my practice to include criminal law. As my practice has expanded over the years I have narrowed my areas of practice to criminal and family law. As a solo practitioner I am responsible for drafting all legal documents, meeting with clients, conducting investigation of facts, drafting and answering discovery, and preparing cases for trial. I also have ad litem certification and am frequently appointed as amicus and/or attorney or guardian ad litem in district court and in CPS cases.

Assistant Attorney General September 2009 - June 2012
OFFICE OF THE ATTORNEY GENERAL, 2820 S. Padre Island Dr., Corpus Christi, Tx 78415

I was responsible for representing the State of Texas at legal proceedings to locate, establish, enforce, modify or terminate court orders for child support and medical support. I provided legal advice and consultation to parties in the Child Support Program. I provided leadership to the court legal team and was responsible for overseeing that employees complete all tasks in a timely manner. My responsibilities included preparing a large court docket and meeting with the legal team to provide direction and/or training necessary to assist in them in implementing the necessary tasks in order to produce a final order in each case.

In-House Counsel January 2006 - June 2007
CORPUS CHRISTI ALLERGY & ASTHMA, CORPUS CHRISTI DERMATOLOGY & SKIN SURGERY
CENTER and MORGAN PEDIATRIC CENTER, 2502 Morgan Ave., Corpus Christi, Tx

I was hired as the first in-house counsel for James A. Caplin, M.D., physician-owner of an allergy, dermatology and pediatric clinic. I was responsible for providing leadership in evaluating and mitigating the multitude of legal, ethical and financial risks inherent in operating a large solo practice physician's office in the increasingly regulated healthcare industry. My responsibilities included drafting and reviewing all company contracts, reviewing and negotiating health plan contracts including fee schedules, advising on employment issues including hiring, promotion and training processes, investigating and responding to Texas Medical Board complaints, drafting informed consents for various medical procedures, consulting with senior executive management on contract and legal issues, using and managing outside counsel in a cost efficient manner, drafting compliance programs to prevent and detect violations of law, and providing general legal advice on any and all federal and state statutes affecting the company.

Associate Attorney

October 2002 - May 2003

HORNBLOWER, MANNING & WARD, 711 N. Carancahua, #1811, Corpus Christi, Tx

As an associate attorney I worked closely with senior partners in the defense of toxic tort, product liability, personal injury, and commercial litigation claims. I assisted with the defense of premise owners and product manufacturers in personal injury and product liability suits involving allegations of various types of chemical exposures. Additionally, I executed day-to-day activities such as conducting investigations, interviewing witnesses, preparing corporate representatives for deposition, coordinating discovery, managing pretrial matters, conducting settlement negotiations and overseeing document productions.
