City Manager Peter Zanoni discussed the following topics: that this item is on the agenda at the request of four council members; that Martin Luther King, Jr. (MLK) Day is a national and state holiday; the entities in Nueces County that observe the holiday; that the City of Corpus Christi observes fewer holidays than the average number of holidays observed by the seven largest cities in Texas and less than the 8 holidays observed by the private sector; costs related to observing MLK Day; use of obesity program funds to cover related costs; support among council members for the holiday; the number of days of paid vacation and sick leave earned by city employees each year; decreasing the number of sick days employees earn by one to compensate for the addition of MLK Day and limitations related thereto regarding Police and Fire collective bargaining contracts; civil rights issues; the cost of adding MLK Day over one and ten years; budgeting for the addition of MLK Day before adding it to the list of paid holidays; the number of employee work hours that will be forgone by observing MLK Day; not decreasing obesity funding; the timing of this agenda item in relation to the proximity of its first observance on January 20, 2020; recognizing City Manager Zanoni for the diversity he has exhibited in hiring employees; costs incurred on a normal city business day versus increased costs due to overtime that is associated with observing MLK Day; the importance of MLK Day; that President Ronald Reagan acknowledged the importance of Martin Luther King, Jr. by signing into law Martin Luther King, Jr. Day in 1983; observing MLK Day as a day of service and titling it "Martin Luther King, Jr. Civil Rights Day of Service"; certain council members expressed embarrassment that the City has not observed this national holiday since its creation 37 years ago; the urgency of observing the holiday this year and not in some future year; that there is not an impact on City revenues by observing this holiday; the need for the City to still meet required deadlines notwithstanding the observance of this holiday; why it has taken so long for the City to recognize this holiday; the importance of Police and Fire personnel's time off; implementing the observance of MLK Day in a financially responsible manner by trading a sick leave day for MLK Day; observing MLK Day as a civil rights day; the cost associated with observing MLK Day; that the banking industry has long observed the holiday; how a price cannot be put on what Martin Luther King, Jr. did for the United States of America; and a council member's experience being an African-American male in the United States.
